THE COMPLIANCE AUDIT — WHAT TO EXPECT

Contents

The fixed-fee audit as you will experience it — the link you open, how your documents are checked, the page that fills in as evidence arrives, and the two weeks from Clock Start to readout. Four pages, in order.

01 One Link — The intake — ten sections, your answers and your documents in one workspace. 3

02 Received Is Not Verified — Every document opened and checked against your answers; what a review note looks like. 4

03 Your Number Against the Line — The dashboard — a measure, the evidence behind it, and what waits for the readout. 5

04 Two Weeks on the Clock — From booking to readout, with Clock Start where your Statement of Work puts it. 6

One link. Ten sections.

Everything the audit needs, in one place — your answers and your documents, saved as you type, from any device. Forward the link to whoever runs payroll or operations; each of you fills in what you know.

Every item in the document request is due within ten business days of signing. Delivery is complete when every item is verified — not just received — or closed by your written statement that it does not exist, which your report records as a finding of absence.

Received is not verified.

Every document you send is opened and checked against your answers. Anything unclear comes back with a note that says what to send — and a document counts only once it is verified.

ONE DOCUMENT · FOUR STATES

DOCUMENT 04 · WAGE & HOUR

Wage statements — last three pay periods

wage-statements.pdf · received

From our review The file titled "wage statements" is a deductions summary — please send the statements themselves, one per pay period.

OUTSTANDING | IN REVIEW | VERIFIED ✓ | NEEDS ATTENTION

Illustrative — a sample document, not a client's. The note is how a review comes back: what we found, and what to send instead. Every document you send carries one of the same four states. Verified means it is the document we asked for — not a finding, and not that its contents comply with the law.

Your number against the line.

A page in your workspace that fills in with your answers and verified documents. Until your readout, nothing on it is a score; the measures against the line arrive then.

ONE MEASURE · SHOWN AT THE READOUT

Are meal periods being taken on time — and recorded?

AS STATED | VERIFIED | FROM ANALYSIS

The brass bar is your number; the navy mark is where California draws the line. Illustrative — no client, no figures. Each measure is labeled by the evidence behind it: as stated by you, verified from your documents, or from analysis of that verified record. Measures against the line are shared at the readout.

AT YOUR READOUT

What the analysis found, and what it could cost, are shared in person or by video, with your report — the fix beside every finding. Nothing from the analysis is posted to the page before then.

Two weeks on the clock.

The clock starts the first business day after payment and your complete document delivery. The two weeks from there are ours; the two conditions are yours.

THE PATH

Timeline per your Statement of Work: documents due within ten business days of signing; the two weeks begin at Clock Start — payment in, every item verified or closed by your written statement that it does not exist (recorded as a finding of absence). The clock pauses while a document is replaced; each additional legal entity adds one week.

PUT THE WEIGHT DOWN

Book your audit.

One link, two weeks, one documented file — and a picture of where you stand, readable in a minute. Tell us your headcount. We'll reply the same business day — usually within the hour.
