THE CHRO RETAINER — CLOSING THE AUDIT

Contents

The retainer that closes your audit findings — the offer, the statutes behind it, the installation, and where it sits on the course. Four pages, in order.

01 Closing the Audit — The offer, the three committed months, and what the retainer delivers. 3

02 The Floor, in Plain English — SB 553 and SB 1162 — what they actually require. 4

03 Scope & Installation — What we install, what you walk away with, and the two ways after. 5

04 The Method — Where closing the audit sits among the four cards — and what you're buying. 6

CHRO describes the service level, not a position; no CFHR personnel holds any client title, officer role, or employment authority.

The required plans, in place— before they become demand letters.

We work down every finding from the audit and close it — required plans, pay transparency, your handbook and more — before any becomes a demand letter.

THE STATUTORY FLOOR · LAB. CODE §6401.9 / §432.3

Three committed months — findings worked down, highest risk first

The sequence follows the audit: high-likelihood, high-impact findings close first, then the standing plans convert each statute into an auditable system. A finding too large for the hours moves to a Custom Project. The retainer builds the documented file — it does not guarantee an outcome.

The CHRO Retainer

from $3,500/mo retainer

20 executive hours a month of CHRO-level work, starting from your audit findings. Three months committed, then month-to-month on 30 days' notice.

WHAT IT DELIVERS

- → Every red finding closed or on a dated schedule
- → A California handbook, issued and acknowledged
- → Every job posting pay-scale compliant (SB 1162)
- → The SB 553 violence-prevention plan — adopted, trained, logged

CHRO describes the service level, not a position; no CFHR personnel holds any client title, officer role, or employment authority.

Close your findings.

The floor, in plain English.

Two standing statutes every California employer is measured against — what they actually require, and why "we'll get to it" is the expensive answer.

WHAT THE LAW REQUIRES

These are not project deadlines that pass; they are standing obligations that renew every year and apply to every posting, every training cycle, and every incident. A memo can't satisfy them — each one demands a system that runs on its own: a plan with an owner, a log that stays current, a posting block that never gets skipped.

SB 553

WORKPLACE VIOLENCE PREVENTION · LAB. CODE §6401.9

WHO	Nearly all California employers — in force since July 1, 2024. Narrow exceptions: teleworkers, non-public worksites with fewer than 10 present, healthcare already under the separate standard.
WHAT	A written Workplace Violence Prevention Plan; training at rollout, annually, and on every change; a violent-incident log; the plan reviewed at least annually.
RECORDS	Incident-investigation records kept 5 years; training records at least 1 year.
TEETH	Enforced by Cal/OSHA — and the plan is the first document requested after any incident.

SB 1162

PAY TRANSPARENCY · LAB. CODE §432.3

WHO	15+ employees for postings — and every employer must disclose a position's pay scale on reasonable request.
WHAT	The pay scale in every job posting, third-party and agency postings included. Since Jan 1, 2026 (SB 642), the range must be a good-faith estimate of what you actually expect to pay.
ON REQUEST	Current employees get the pay scale for their own position; salary-history questions are prohibited statewide.
TEETH	$100–$10,000 per violation — and every live posting is its own violation and its own paper trail.

THE GOOD NEWS

This is the work the retainer does.

The Safe-Workplace Plan, the Pay-Posting Kit, and the Handbook Spine convert these statutes into standing, auditable systems — with logs, owners, and dates. The retainer on page three works them down with every other finding from your audit.

Statutes current as of 2026; thresholds and penalties change.

THE FINISHED FLOOR

What we install — and what you stand on after.

Installation across the systems California actually inspects — delivered as standing plans your team can run, not a stack of drafts.

WHAT WE INSTALL

01
Red-Finding Closeout
Every high-likelihood, high-impact audit finding remediated or on a dated schedule.

02
Handbook Spine
The California framework with the mandatory-policy checklist, at-will statement, and version control.

03
Required Notices
Offer letters with a compliant pay scale, wage notices, sick-leave notice, the acknowledgment set.

04
Pay-Posting Kit
The pay-scale block on every posting; agency and job-board instructions with written confirmation.

05
Safe-Workplace Plan
The SB 553 plan adopted — standalone or in your IIPP — with incident-response procedures.

06
Training & Logs
Rollout and annual violence-prevention training, the violent-incident log, retention periods set.

WHAT YOU WALK AWAY WITH

→ The Updated Exposure Map
Every red closed or dated; mediums and lows owned on the calendar — nothing ticking.

→ The Issued Handbook
Mandatory policies present, acknowledged by every employee, and version-controlled.

→ The Standing Plans
Pay-posting system and SB 553 plan live, trained, and logged — auditable on request.

→ Your Reasonable Steps File
Every finding you close becomes a dated, documented step in your file — evidence of the reasonable steps PAGA weighs.

AFTER THE FINDINGS CLOSE — TWO WAYS

The floor holds either way. The question is who runs what stands on it.

OPTION A
Hold it in-house
You keep the plans, the logs, and the calendar of recurring duties. Your team runs the systems.

BEST WITH CAPABLE IN-HOUSE HR / OPS

OPTION B · BUILD SYSTEMS
We build the system
Everyday HR — hiring, onboarding, reviews, leaves, and the hard conversations — plus the systems and training that let your managers move without waiting on you.

CHRO RETAINER · FROM $3,500/MO · 20 HRS/MO

CHRO describes the service level, not a position; no CFHR personnel holds any client title, officer role, or employment authority.

→ your Reasonable Steps File — completed, then kept current.

A closed finding is a system, not a memo.

Four cards, one course — get your bearings, correct your course, increase your speed, reach your destination. The thread through all four is your Reasonable Steps File: opened, completed, kept current, made buyer-ready.

CARD 02 — REPAIR — IS CLOSING THE AUDIT

WHAT YOU'RE ACTUALLY BUYING

Closing the audit isn't paperwork. It's the difference between hoping the plans exist and knowing they do — adopted, trained, logged, and dated.

— The missing plans stop being missing.
Adopted, trained, and logged — provable the day anyone asks.

— Every posting goes out clean.
The pay-scale block on every job ad — agencies and job boards included.

— Your handbook matches California.
Mandatory policies present, acknowledged, and version-controlled.

CLOSE THE AUDIT

Stand on ground that holds.

You didn't start the company to track California's statutes. Once the findings close, the plans exist, the postings go out clean, the handbook matches the law — and every fix is documented where it counts.
